Wetaskiwin Member Alta. House Addresses Kiwanis

Public Has Misapprehension With Respect to "Ear Marked" Money For Highways, Says E. E. Sparks, M.L.A.

At the Kiwanis Club luncheon on Tuesday evening, E. E. Sparks, M.L.A. for Wetaskiwin, gave a brief resume of some of the legislation which was passed at the last session of the Alberta legislature. At the outset, Mr. Sparks stated the Pigeon Lake road needed assistance, but the money collected from auto licensees and gasoline taxes and "earmarked" for main highways, could not be used for this purpose, as the road west was not a main highway. The public had a misapprehension about this fund. All the money was spent for the purpose intended, but about half of the expenditure had to go to take care of interest and sinking fund. Last year $1,737,000 was spent on the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges, while the amount required to meet the interest and sinking fund was $2,405,000.

The railway question was one of the biggest problems the government had to face at the last session, but these were satisfactorily handled. The Lacombe and North-Western had been sold at a reasonable price, but the offers for the northern roads was not acceptable and when the government did not sell at the price offered, another offer, about $1,500,000 higher was submitted.

Among the acts amended were the Public Works Act, which now includes railway signs and sidings, as well as allowing a maintenance man to work on either side of the highway and the traffic must be governed accordingly. The Bee Diseases Act was also amended. Alberta is now an important honey-producing province. In Southern Alberta more honey is produced than is consumed locally, and at Beaver Lodge, in Northern Alberta, there is a hive that produced the highest record for the province, namely 31 lbs. a day for two days in succession.

The Trackways Act, providing for a toll road from Calgary to Banff, was be considered.

FOUR CASES ON DOCKET OF SUPREME COURT HERE

Sittings of the Supreme Court are held here this week, with His Honor Mr. Justice Boyle presiding. There are four cases on the docket, two from Wetaskiwin, one from the Finland district west of the city, and the principal parties in the fourth case are from Ponoka.

The first case was McKinney vs. George F. Root, in which the plaintiff claims damages for alleged injuries in an automobile accident on Court House avenue, Wetaskiwin. The case was adjourned to Edmonton, where the medical evidence will be taken in May.

The Finns' case is being heard today and tomorrow; the case of Hay vs. Hay for divorce and alimony will be heard on Friday.

The Trackways Act, providing for a toll road from Calgary to Banff, was be considered.

W. I. Convention at Stettler

Stettler, Alberta, April 5.—Some 200 enthusiastic Women's Institute members of central Alberta gathered at Stettler, Tuesday evening, for their first district conference for a number of years. They were welcomed by the Stettler Institute, an organization of ninety members, with a sumptuous banquet at United church, where a fine program of toasts, musical numbers and speeches was enjoyed.

Miss Jessie Macmillan, Edmonton, Women's Home Bureau secretary, was the main speaker of the evening. She gave an inspirational address on "Citizenship," taking as a basis Jack's book on this topic. She recommended two booklets, "Canada's New Homeland," and a "Manual on Citizenship" to all institutes intending to study this subject. These may be had free from Hon. Robert Forke, minister of immigration, Ottawa.

The toasts were "The King" and "The Visitors," proposed by Mrs. F. Harding, Stettler, and answered by Mrs. H. J. Montgomery, Wetaskiwin; "Canada," proposed by Mrs. L. O. Wood, Stettler, and answered by Mrs. A. H. Rogers, Fort Saskatchewan; "Our Organization," proposed by Mrs. J. Macgregor Smith, Edmonton, and responded to by Mrs. Wellington Huyck, Strome, W.I. provincial president.

Musical numbers were contributed by Mrs. J. Campbell, Stettler; Mrs. M. Laing, Erskine; Mrs. Upton and Mrs. Call of Scolard; and Mrs. Montgomery, Wetaskiwin. Mrs. J. F. Price, national W.I. publicity secretary, Calgary, spoke briefly on news of national interest.

Ponoka's $20,000 Memorial

Ponoka, April 7.—As a result of the work of Captain S. N. Dancy during the past week Ponoka district is united solidly behind the plan for the Elks' $20,000 memorial home in Ponoka. Ponoka district gave upwards of one hundred men to the World War, and many from this district gave their lives. The home will cost $20,000 and will provide a civic centre for the district, a home for the Elks, and a home for The Canadian Legion and other patriotic organizations.

Captain Dancy took personal charge of the organization work. Meetings have been held throughout the district, finishing with a big gathering of school children. Every part of the district is working for the memorial and the objective is already in sight. A big thermometer of Ponoka schools, was elected historian.

100 COACHES NEEDED TO BRING IMMIGRANTS WEST

Winnipeg, April 4.—Five thousand immigrants are due at Halifax on twelve boats docking Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, according to advices received by the Canadian National Railways.

To handle this heavy movement fourteen special trains, made up of more than 100 colonist as well as first class coaches, sleepers, dining and lunch cars, will be required, and this equipment is now being assembled at Halifax.

Most of the settlers are destined for Western Canada.

Obituary

MRS ROBERT STEWART

The residents of Pleasant Prairie and neighborhood were visited with a wave of sorrow when they received the message from Calgary that Anna Amelia, nee Klett, beloved wife of Mr. Robert Stewart, had taken leave of earthly life on Wednesday last.

The funeral service was conducted in St. John's Ev. Lutheran church at Pleasant Prairie on April 6th. Two sermons were delivered by the local pastor, one in the German and the other in the English language.

The text for the German language was St. John 11, 25 and 26. Drawing instances from her life which gave ample proof that she believed in Jesus Christ, it was a consolation to hear that her departure was not loss to her but gain, by entering a life of happiness in the Great Beyond.

The English sermon was based on 1 Cor. 15, 55-57. On the ground of it the pastor explained how Jesus through His death had taken away sin, which is the sting of death, and that she has won the victory over death and damnation through faith in Jesus.

The floral contributions were very beautiful and numerous. Among those who contributed were: J. E. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane, The P.A.P., Mr. E. P. Hansen and family, Paint and Auto Supply Calgary (per R. H. Griffiths), Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Battum, members of Calvary Lutheran church, two wreaths; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Bell, wreath from nieces and nephews, Emma Scholze, Mrs. Vickerson and William, Mr. Albert Feldberg and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scholze.

Decesased passed away at the age of 29 years, 5 months, and 18 days. She was baptized Nov. 5th, 1898, and confirmed Sept. 28th, 1912.

She leaves to mourn her untimely death, her husband, mother, brother and five sisters.

After the service she was taken to her last earthly resting place in St. John's cemetery at Pleasant Prairie.

CANTATA IN UNITED CHURCH WAS GREATLY ENJOYED

The cantata, "The Morn of Victory," upon which, for weeks, the choir of the First United church has been working, was sung on Sunday evening, and was much appreciated and enjoyed by a congregation which packed the building—in fact many were turned away.

Mrs. Ardwin Brink of Edmonton, assisted the choir and to her must be given much credit for the successful rendering of the cantata. Her solo, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," was greatly enjoyed, as were also her duet with Mrs. V. C. French, and the solo "Thou Forsaken One," sung by the latter. The choruses were all difficult, and the confident manner in which they were sung was evidence of the care spent in preparing them. The choir leader and organist, Mr. J. E. Buchanan, is being congratulated upon the successful manner in which the cantata was rendered.

MCCORMICK-DEERING HAS IMPRESSIVE DEMONSTRATION

On Thursday afternoon last, N. O. Osburn, the local agent for the McCormick-Deering machinery company, held a demonstration when some of the machinery disposed of recently was paraded through the streets of the city by the purchasers. In the demonstration was included seven 15-30 McCormick-Deering tractors, two four-bottom 14-inch engine gangs, four three-bottom 14-inch engine gangs, one 20-inch steel beam brush breaker, one 21-ft. wide disc harrow and one 10-ft. tandem disc harrow. In the evening, Mr. Osbourn entertained the purchasers to a banquet at the Drift.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN LOCATION OF THE CAMROSE TRAIL

To the Editor of The Times, Dear Sir:

In the issue of your paper dated April 5th, there was a very prominent headline dealing with the above-named subject. Included among other items in this headline was the statement that the Council of the Municipal District of Camrose was opposed to the proposed change. I have no idea where you got this impression from as it was never voiced by this Council, in fact, I believe that they would support the change.

However, the point is that I must ask you to at once give equal prominence in this week's issue of your paper to the fact that the Municipal District of Camrose has never expressed an opinion in opposition to the proposed change and that your headline in last week's issue was in error in stating that they had.

Yours faithfully,
GODFREY BAKER, Secretary

Mr. Parrish left a few days ago for Stettler, where he has been appointed government cream tester.

NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING WANTED FOR WETASKIWIN

The Wetaskiwin Hospital Board during the past couple of years, have been making plans for the erection at some time in the near future of an up-to-date hospital building, which will be large enough to take care of the ever-increasing number of patients from Wetaskiwin and district, who find it necessary to avail themselves of hospital facilities. It is realized that the present building, while performing a wonderful service as a hospital, is deficient and lacking in many respects, and the need for more and better accommodation is realized by not only the patients, who have received treatment therein, but also all others who have had anything to do in its management.

In order to finance the erection of a new building without the necessity of forming a hospital district under the Municipal Hospitals Act, and the issuing of debentures to cover its cost, the board have been gradually accumulating a reserve fund with the assistance and co-operation of the Montgomery, Bigstone and Wetaskiwin Municipalities, which have each been contributing yearly grants to the support and maintenance of the hospital.

This assistance, together with the government grant, and fees from patients, combined with economy and good management, have resulted in the building up of a cash reserve of $6,500 as at December 31st, 1927. In order to increase this reserve fund at a more rapid rate, it has been suggested that the municipal grants be doubled, starting with this year, and with the same rate of progress as in the past, together with interest on the reserve fund, it is expected that in the near future a sufficient surplus will have accumulated to permit of the erection of a new hospital building large enough and fully equipped to serve this city and community for many years.

This method of financing the new hospital is much more preferable than the long term debenture issues, where the interest charges equal, if not exceeded, the original cost, and the saving to the ratepayers in the contributing municipalities will be proportionately great.

The Hospital Board feels that owing to our good financial position there may develop a lack of interest among some of those who have so loyally supported them in the past, but all possible assistance is required from every source, so that the erection of a new hospital may be undertaken at the earliest date possible. ### HOT CROSS BUNS

BRING GOOD LUCK

Among all the quaintly interesting traditions that deal with the winning of good luck, none are more appealing than those clustering around the Good Friday hot cross bun of Old England. It was an old belief that if a hot cross bun, baked on Good Friday, were hung in the fireplace and kept there until the following year, the whole family would enjoy the very best of luck. The same family would keep the crumbs of several other hot cross buns in their strong box, and use these crumbs, dissolved in water, as medicine throughout the whole year. These hot cross bun crumbs were considered by the simple country folks as curative of all human ills.

The custom of eating these delicious buns is not observed in Scotland or on the continent, but it is celebrated in the United States and in Canada, whence it was brought by the early English settlers who had been entreated with the mystic recipe just before leaving their native land.

For many years it has been the custom in this country to eat hot cross buns on the Friday just before Easter Sunday. But of late years bakers first found there was a ready market for these sugar-coated, raisin-filled buns a week before Good Friday; then two weeks before the accustomed day, three weeks, and so on until, at the present, hot cross buns are in demand every day of Lent.

EASTER, OLD AND NEW

Easter, the anniversary of our Lord's resurrection from the dead, is one of the three great festivals of the Christian year, the other two being Christmas and Whitsun-tide. From the earliest period of Christianity down to the present day, it has been celebrated with the greatest joy by Christian people, the world over and accounted the queen of festivals. In primitive times it was usual for Christians to salute each other on the morning of this day by exclaiming, "Christ is risen," to which the person saluted replied, "Christ is risen indeed," or else "And hath appeared unto Simon," a custom still reigning in the Greek church.

The common name of the festival in the eastern world was the paschal feast, because it was kept at the same time as the Jewish passover and to a certain extent succeeded it. Our name Easter is derived probably from Eostre, the name of a Saxon deity whose fast was celebrated every year in the spring about the same time as the Christian festival, and it is supposed that the name was retained after the character of the feast was changed.

Though there has never been any difference of opinion in the Christian church as to why Easter is kept, there has been a good deal of dispute as to when it ought to be kept. It is one of the movable feasts; unlike Christmas day, which is always observed on the 25th of December. It moves backwards or forwards according as the full moon, after the vernal equinox, falls nearer or further from the equinox.

The rule at the beginning of the prayer book gives the easiest way to find Easter. "Easter day is always the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after the 21st day of March; and if the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter day is the Sunday after.

Many of the customs of Good Friday and Easter Sunday have disappeared from the western world, others have become so much a matter of habit that few people question their source or significance. Those that have survived in America appear to be universally observed in Christian countries. Among the most widely accepted of these customs is the use of colored eggs on Easter Sunday. Even in Scotland, where the great festivals of the church were suppressed for centuries, the children still get their hard-boiled colored eggs ready for Easter.

Where this custom had its origin is not definitely known, but it undoubtedly is associated with the fact that the use of eggs was forbidden during Lent, and they were brought to the table on Easter morning, colored red, to symbolize Easter joy. This quite beautiful custom is often carried to extremes in many parts of eastern Canada, where competitions are staged on Easter morning to see which member of the family can dispose of the most eggs. Moreover, ever since pagan times, the egg has been used as the symbol of the germinating life of early spring.

The question is bound to arise as to how the Easter rabbit has found its way into the festivities. According to many authorities in pagan mythology, the rabbit is used as the emblem of fertility and in some way (probably due to children's stories) is reputed to hide the Easter eggs in the garden for the children to find on Easter morning.

Another custom in many parts of England is called "bowling pasties" or rolling hard-boiled eggs on the grass, a custom which is observed on the White House lawn every Easter Sunday in Washington.

Many strange customs unknown in Canada still survive in other lands. Russia the release from the long discipline of Lent is celebrated by the ringing of bells, and it is the privilege of any man or woman to enter the churches and ring the bells.

In the north of England an old

Easter custom survives which is probably not found anywhere else.

On Easter Monday the men parade the streets gaily dressed and chanted the privilege of lifting every woman three times from the ground and re-civing in payment a kiss or a silver sixpence. The same may be done by the woman the following day. The men, of course, try to have silver sixpences withdrawn from circulation before the festival of Easter.

Another custom in many parts of England is called "bowling pasties" or rolling hard-boiled eggs on the grass, a custom which is observed on the White House lawn every Easter

Sunday in Washington.

The use of hot-cross buns also is a survival of the old English custom of exchanging tansey-cakes and tan-sey puddings, for many years a tradition in England.

In Kent, in the parish of Bidden-den, there was an endowment of ancient date for the distribution of cakes to the poor every Easter Sunday. As many as 600 cakes were distributed in this way every year.

But, however ridiculous some of these customs may seem to us today, they are but symbols of the hope that lies hidden in every human heart that death is not the end but the beginning of life, and the profound belief on the part of millions of people all over the world that by His resurrection from the dead Christ gained the victory over man's last enemy and brought immortality to light.

"FRUITION"

(By Allan Swinton)

He evaded his mother's restraining hand and went to his room. A bare enough place—bed, chair, and washstand with a row of books on the wall and a pile of kit in one corner: snowshoes, packs, dog harness. He pulled out a pack and emptied it on the floor, rummaging among its contents and laying the articles he selected on the bed. One by one he looked them over, the meticulous details of a real woodsmen's personal equipment. The water-tight matchbox, the punkmatch, the compass, the hank of good cord, the bit of babciole, the sheath knife, the tiny clasp knife, the file, the needles and thready, the spar socks and mocca-casins.

When he had assembled everything to the last, least detail, and had selected his clothing for the trip, he laid the garments in a neat heap, kicked the late contents of the pack into the corner and put in the selected gear.

He headed across the white plain to his home. So that was that. So much for his dreams of fortune.

He was strangely light-hearted.

So, though day after day the teams of yelping huskies fled northward on their rush for claims, Pete's tireless figure loped with none of them. He went back to Hanson's logging camp and superintended preparations for the running of the winter's cut down the treacherous Manigwan, and ate out his heart for fear that big Hans Hanson might usurp his place with Madeline. When he went to town she smiled impartially on both of them; and old man Laffite and his wife Jeanne nodded their approval and exchanged meaning glances.

Husky. Never give in; never quit. Never quit. The word seemed to whisper in the croak of his snowshoes, over and over again.

There was no one sitting about the stove in the "annexo" of Ham Dart's rooming house. The thick air swirled about the lamp, and rocked. Men snored thunderously, and tossed themselves from side to side, with many gurgles.

Pete called "Sam Peterson! Oh Sam Peterson! You there?"

"Sam Peterson!"
A man heaved over, grunted, "Hell, shut up! He's in the next bunk if you must have him."

Pete shook the sleeping man, who woke with a start. "I'm Pete Laffite. You know—I was to go in with you."

"Uhh."

"Well, I can't go. I'm darned sorry but something's cropped up. I'm pretty sure I can get you a good man though."

The bright eyes of the little man peered at him through the murk.

"Awful! pardner. If you can't, you can't."

He fell back and was instantly asleep.

Pete drew shut the bunkhouse door behind him.

Dann Hanson! Damn everything! He'd be a jerkwater lumberman all his life, and Hanson would weather his storm and make a million—as every one said he was bound to do. Maybe she liked him. Maybe . . .

Above the demonic howling of the huskies he heard her merrily laughter following him out of the store.

He headed across the white plain to his home. So that was that. So much for his dreams of fortune.

He was strangely light-hearted.

So, though day after day the teams of yelping huskies fled northward on their rush for claims, Pete's tireless figure loped with none of them. He went back to Hanson's logging camp and superintended preparations for the running of the winter's cut down the treacherous Manigwan, and ate out his heart for fear that big Hans Hanson might usurp his place with Madeline. When he went to town she smiled impartially on both of them; and old man Laffite and his wife Jeanne nodded their approval and exchanged meaning glances.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, our Dominion President, will address a public meeting in Wetaskiwin on April 16th at the Angus Theatre at 8:30 p.m.

We wish to thank every one who by contributions or patronage assisted in making our bazaar last week a success. The sum realized will meet our budget allocation to the Canadianization fund, a work carried on among our Ukrainian friends by one of their countrymen, whose salary is paid by the Provincial W.C.T.U.

Mrs. James Scott entertained the W.C.T.U. at their April meeting held on the 4th inst. After routine of business, supper was served and a social hour enjoyed.

HOW DO YOU READ?

"Tell me what you eat, and I will tell you what you are," has cried a publicist so often that he has coined

a household axiom. Well, might another say: "Tell me what you read and I will tell you what you are!"

The mind is the house in which we live more truly than is the body. If we furnish the mind garishly we must live in a garish house. If we furnish the mind carelessly, we must live in a slovenly house. If we take care of our mental furniture only from the past, we shall live in the past alone. If we take it only from the faddish notions of the present, which vanish e'er we know them.

But, if on the other hand, our mental diet is balanced, comprised of the foods tested by time and sanc'd and spiced by the piquancy of the present, we may live a balanced, ordered life.

We can with impunity pour poisons and dark, wild, disorderly thoughts into our minds no more than we can day after day find strength and health from spurious foods, hastily prepared and indigestible.

To read well, read discriminatingly, widely, thoroughly.

What we read becomes part and parcel of us.

WINFIELD NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Franchi and Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Town Lake, were visiting the Handbury's last Monday.

Mr. Taylor has bought a half interest in the Winfield dance hall.

Three cow moos were seen on the Winfield road last Tuesday.

Messrs. Gerald and Walter Carroll gave a dance at their mill last week. A large crowd attended, enjoying themselves immensely.

Mr. Draden gave a dance at their mill before, when another good time was spent.

It is very good of these millowners to devote their time and trouble in preparing these dances and we heartily thank them and their cooks for the enjoyable evenings at their expense.

OLYMPIC SPORTS IN CANADA IN 1932

Canada has high hopes of obtaining the Winter sports of the next Olympic Games, according to a statement by P. J. Mulqueen, Chairman of the Canadian Olympic Committee.

"I think that we got off to a good start on our campaign to bring the next Winter Olympics to Canada," Mulqueen said. "We have, I think, convinced most of the European ice sports officials that we can at Montreal or Ottawa furnish all that is necessary for the holding of the contests on the Olympic program."

DRINK HOT WATER To End Indigestion

INSTANT RELIEF

Thousands of unfortunate people suffer almost daily from frequent attacks of indigestion after eating. If they would start the agreeable practice of taking a glass of hot water containing a teaspoonful or four tablets of pure Bisulat Magnesia, their symptoms of indigestion would be soothed and improved so that they could eat the richest and most satisfying meals without the least symptom of indigestion.

Nearly all digestive troubles are caused by an excess of acidity in the stomach, and the stomach should be relieved before digestion can take place. A glass of hot water draws the blood to the stomach and Bisulat Magnesia neutralizes the stomach acid and keeps the stomach strong, so that it can easily digest food. Bisulat Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, easy and pleasant to take, and can be obtained from any well stocked druggist in either powder or tablet form. Try this treatment on your meals in peace."

A teacher was giving his class a lecture on charity. "Willie," he said, "if I saw a boy beating a donkey, and stopped him from doing it, what virtue should I be showing?" Willie (promptly): "Brotherly love."

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, our Dominion President, will address a public meeting in Wetaskiwin on April 16th at the Angus Theatre at 3:30 p.m.

We wish to thank every one who by contributions or patronage assisted in making our bazaar last week a success. The sum realized will meet our budget allocation to the Canadianization fund, a work carried on among our Ukrainian friends by one of their countrymen, whose salary is paid by the Provincial W.C.T.U.

Mrs. James Scott entertained the Y.W.C.T.U. at their April meeting held on the 4th inst. After routine of business, supper was served and a social hour enjoyed.

HOW DO YOU READ?

"Tell me what you eat, and I will tell you what you are," has cried a publicist so often that he has coined

The mind is the house in which we live more truly than is the body. If we furnish the mind garishly we must live in a garish house. If we furnish the mind carelessly, we must live in a slovenly house. If we take care of our mental furniture only from the past, we shall live in the past alone. If we take it only from the faddish notions of the present we shall live amid fads and foibles, which vanish e'er we know them.

But, on the other hand, our mental diet is balanced, comprised of the foods tested by time and savored and spiced by the piquancy of the present, we may live a balanced, ordered life.

We can with impunity pour poisons and dyes, wild, disorderly thoughts into our minds, no more than we can drink after day and strength and health from spurious foods, hastily prepared and indigestible.

To read well, read discriminatingly, widely, thoroughly.

What we read becomes part and parcel of us.

WINFIELD NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Town Lake, were visiting the Handbury's last Monday.

Mr. Taylor has bought a half interest in the Winfield dance hall.

Three cow moose were seen on the Winfield road last Tuesday.

Messrs. Gerald and Walter Carroll gave a dance at their mill last week. A large crowd attended, enjoying themselves immensely.

Mr. Draden gave a dance the week before, when another good time was spent.

TIGHTWAD TOWN

Walt Mason)

In Tightwad Town there is no growth; the people are exceeding loth to build a bungalow or a shed or anything that costs a red. Some old chaps still possess the dimes they first acquired in ancient times; to let a nickel get away would spoil them for a happy day. Oh, how and then some boosters rise with pep and courage in their eyes. "Let's pave the village streets," they say, "and have a modern great white way; let's show some signs of vim and snap, and put the old town on the map." But schemers like that will not go down in Tightwad Town, old Tightwad Town. The tightwads come from every ward, and file their protests by the card. "We now," they cry, "have faded backs from bearing an holy tax; and if we pave the streets, by heck, our bank accounts will be a wreck. What if the mud's a furrow deep? What if the village cows and sheep are pastured on that thoroughfare? Our sainted father's didn't care, don't try to ring in modern frills since we would try to pay the bills." So things look punk and tumble-down in Tightwad Town, old Tightwad Town. Old boosters weary of the fray and break their hearts and go away, and new ones come and try to show the sad old village how to grow. And they in turn throw up their hands and chase themselves to other lands. For poor old Tightwad Town is bent on never blowing in a cent; they hear of progress with a frown, in Tightwad Town, old Tightwad Town.

ARBOR DAY, MAY 7

OLYMPIC SPORTS IN CANADA IN 1928

Canada has high hopes of obtaining the Winter sports of the next Olympic Games, according to a statement by P. J. Mulqueen, Chairman of the Canadian Olympic Committee.

"I think that we got off to a good start on our campaign to bring the next Winter Olympics to Canada," Mulqueen said. "We have, I think, convinced most of the European ice sports officials that we can at Montreal or Ottawa furnish all that is necessary for the holding of the contests on the Olympic program."

INSTANT RELIEF

Thousands of unfortunate people suffer almost daily from stomach acidity, gas, sourness and indigestion after eating. Many now follow an agreeable practice of taking a glassful of hot water containing a teaspoonful or four tablets of pure Bisulat Magnesia; they would soon find their stomach is strengthened and improved that they could eat the most delicious meal without the least symptom of indigestion.

Nearly all digestive troubles are caused by an excess of acid and an insufficient blood supply in the stomach. For ferments and sourness before meals, take a glass of acid. A glass of hot water draws the blood to the stomach and Bisulat Magnesia neutralizes the stomach acid and keeps the stomach strong, sweet and healthy and promotes normal painless digestion. Bisulat is a safe, non-toxic, non-irritative, is harmless, easy and pleasant to take, and can be obtained in either well stocked druggist in either powder or tablet form. Try this today and enjoy your meals in peace."

THE W.C.T.U. QUESTIONNAIRE
To the Editor of The Times.

Dear Sir:

It would seem that moderationists are not held in the highest esteem by the W.C.T.U., judging from the tone of the long list of questions which have been addressed to me through your columns March 29th. But they are not the first to be similarly criticised. For in the Gospel of St. Luke we find: "The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners!"

It was gracious of the ladies to correct the errors of their statements to which I called attention. They can console themselves with the fact that only one who has ever lived on this earth was infallible. Which reminds me of the story of a wedding at Cana in Galilee. It was blessed by His presence, and by the miraculous gift of more than a hundred gallons of wine, a generous contribution toward the jollity of the nuptial festivities.

Upon examination I find the Moderationists have the highest authority for though St. Paul the Apostle said: "It is not good to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth," to the Colossians he wrote: "Let no man judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a feast day, or of a new moon, or of a Sabbath." And again his advice to Timothy was most emphatic: "Be no longer a drinker of water," he wrote, "Take a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities."

So if the Moderationists do look with indulgence upon those who partake of the cup that cheers, and on occasion take a nip themselves, they do but follow the precepts and example of the holiest and wisest of men.

Being a believer in temperance, I subscribe to the Moderationist's policy because it has proven most successful in promoting temperance. I was and am against the saloon bar. I am glad that terrible institution was done away with. The good ladies of the W.C.T.U., however, seem to have been misinformed on this point. The beer-parlors of to-day, I assure them, are nothing like the old-time saloon bar. Now, different and milder drinks are served. They are controlled under a totally different law. They meet an insistent demand for a stimulating drink which is served in dilute form and in small quantities. If this beer were not so conveniently available it would be replaced by more potent liquor, as we learned during prohibition, and be consumed under much less desirable conditions than a regulated beer-room provides.

That, I think, answers the first three questions.

The ladies are really much more concerned about what they call the "treating system" than the situation justifies. I have had personal experience of it, and it is true that when I enter a beer-room with a friend one or other of us pays for the two beers. We were not terribly cheap if we reached down for our separate dimes. So we don't do that. I have done the same thing in a tea-room and a restaurant.

My reply to question five is that I believe there is some boot-legging going on locally. It is a sort of an emergency service given by men who will take a chance to accommodate their friends and neighbors, and incidentally turn a questionable dollar. The Vendor closes at 6 p.m.

There are a few—very few, let us hope—degenerates who consume "Canned heat." Such men might have committed a greater crime had they not rendered themselves incapable of doing so. Such men should not, in the first place, be admitted to this country, and if native of it, should be in a lunatic asylum. Their case I class as a social oversight chargeable to society at large.

With regard to question seven, I think it is just as right for Moderationists, who ask for a hotel and beer-room for their community, to enlist the aid of their organization, as it is for those opposed to enlist the prohibition forces. Both are legally right, though one is the more important.

(8) I am not aware that the Moderationists do accept financial aid from the breweries. If it is so, it is no doubt for the same reason that a manufacturer might subscribe to the prohibitionists, or even a bootlegger.

(9) My information is that moonshining is most prevalent among foreign communities, where the art was learned during prohibition. These people are hard to deal with. It may take years to stamp it out.

To question ten, the answer is that we now know that drinking cannot be stopped either by permitting it or prohibiting it. It has been reduced by

DOMINION CHARTER

Being an offer of Stock by the original Shareholders to raise capital with which to pay for patents on improvements and to construct a factory model machine with the assistance of a Skilled Agricultural Engineer and Designer.

WHAT HAS BEEN SAID ABOUT THE BOYCHUK STOKER

From a LETTER written by J. MCGREGOR SMITH, Professor of Agricultural Engineering, University of Alberta: "A statement appeared in the Edmonton Journal, October 2nd, 1924. This report covers very well what my opinion was at that time and I have had no reason to change it up to this date. The statement referred to is as follows:

"The new mechanical stooker which has been invented by Boychuk Bros. of Shandro, gives promise of doing very successful work is the opinion of Professor J. McGregor Smith of the Department of Agricultural Engineering at the University of Alberta. Professor Smith, after having seen the device in operation in the field, states that he is of the opinion that as soon as some minor mechanical imperfections have been overcome the machine will do as good work in the grain field as can be done by hand stooking."

From the EDMONTON JOURNAL

August 18th, 1925.

"The development of a mechanical stooking device, which has been the goal of inventors for years, has apparently taken a long stride forward with the work of Nick and John Boychuk, of Shandro. The machine which in its field trial surprised the gathering of onlookers in the quality of its work, appears to have a number of features which mark it as superior to any of the similar devices which have appeared during the past few years. If in its perfected form it lives up to its present performance in the field, the new stooker will undoubtedly prove one of the greatest labor-saving devices in the farm since the advent of the self-binding."

We claim to have the only successful automatic stooker in the world. It is a necessary article in great demand. It is a successful device capable of being built cheaply and sold at a reasonable price.

From THE FARM & RANCH REVIEW

November 25th, 1927.

"Usually the most difficult harvest problem of all is the securing of an adequate and efficient supply of help for stooking. To escape these conditions, inventors have for many years striven to produce an automatic stooking machine that would do satisfactory work in the field and which would be simple to operate and the isolation of the correct stooking principle and the embodying of this in a simple steady mechanical force."

"After many attempts have been made to evolve a successful machine it would appear that two young Alberta farmers, Nick and John Boychuk, sons of a Russian immigrant, living at Shandro, Alberta, have produced such a machine. First tests of the device were made with 1924, 1925, 1926 and 1927 crops, and it has been ascertained that all of the principles of the machine are correct."

"We claim to have the only successful automatic stooker in the world. It is a necessary article in great demand. It is a successful device capable of being built cheaply and sold at a reasonable price.

It has been carefully protected as to patent rights in Canada, United States, Australia and Argentine.

THE PROSPECTS OF SALES FOR BOYCHUK STOKERS.

It is proposed to grant licenses for the manufacture of the machines on a suggested cash bonus and royalty basis, or even to grant a royalty basis alone, computed on the retail selling price of machines and spare parts thereof, to the using public, and to sell the same on Company purposes.

It has been pronounced "successful and satisfactory" by the experts of one of the world's largest agricultural machine companies. The President of another such company estimated its cost of production not over $45 for its estimated weight of 600 pounds. It will doubtless sell for about $200.00, thus insuring the manufacturer a good profit.

Various companies are awaiting the building of our factory model machine and are prepared to negotiate with us for licenses to manufacture them upon satisfactory demonstrations of that machine to them.

We intend to ask ten per cent. royalty on all machines and replacement parts on the basis of the price paid by the farmer for them. None of the machine companies have raised any complaint over that suggestion.

THE PRESENT OFFICERS OF THE COMPANY have received numerous requests for shares in the Boychuk Stoker Patent Company Limited and are herewith offering for sale, to the public, $50,000 of shares to complete the project so that licenses can be granted to manufacturers to make and sell the Boychuk Stoker on a royalty basis. It is estimated that Canada alone could absorb 50,000 machines annually.

It should be noted that all machines so far produced were designed and more or less crudely "hand built" by the inventors themselves, without expert advice or assistance, and merely to demonstrate the correctness of the mechanical principles involved in the invention. We now require a carefully designed and accurately constructed machine as a factory model.

educational effort and improved economic conditions. In Canada, Norway and Sweden conditions became worse under prohibition, and the people are now aware of its decrees. Our $10,500—not $12,000,000—drink bill is not so bad when we consider that nearly half of the money goes directly to our governments and a good slice of the rest comes out of the American tourist's pockets.

Miss Evangeline Booth in the "Saturday Evening Post" I have no doubt, wrote truly of what she knew, but she said nothing of the fact that the down and outs of pre-prohibition days are the prosperous criminals in the States today. Conditions are not better today in New York, according to an editorial in the "Chicago Herald and Examiner," March 26, 1928, which said: "In New York, America's largest city, there were thousands of public saloons—a disgraceful condition."

"There are in that city today twice as many speak-easies selling bootleg, as there ever were of open saloons."

Charles Francis Clegg says in the Saturday Evening Post: "It is also true—undeniably true—that it (prohibition) has diverted in to the hands of the criminally inclined large revenues from the illegal sale of liquor. These revenues, upon which no tax is paid to the government, are all too often used for the propagation of crime."

So it would seem, that there is another side to the picture to that which Evangeline presents.

The reference to Henry Ford's views brings to mind his ridiculous "Peace-ship" venture; his attitude toward the Hebrews, on account of which he publicly apologized to Aaron Sapiro. No! Henry is smart, at the automobile game, but he is apt to be led away by an impractical idealism or a mere prejudice, it seems.

COUGHED SO MUCH

Mr. Hester Beauchamp, Boddland, Ont., writes: "Every fall and winter I used to be bothered with severe colds. I would cough so much my head would ache, and I could not sleep at night."

"A friend told me about

so I got a bottle and when just had it was taken I had stopped coughing, and I felt a lot better."

"Ever since I have never been without a bottle of 'Dr. Wood's' in the house, and I can highly recommend it for coughs and colds of any kind."

Weddings

ROGEVEEN-KOENEN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Roman Catholic church on Monday morning when Miss Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koenen, became the bride of Paul Adrian Rogeveen of Sedgewick. The bride looked lovely in her dress of white taffeta with side cascades of lace, wearing a veil of embroidered net with orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by her sister Frances, very dainty in rosewood silk, with matching and carrying pink flowers. The groomsmen was Mr. Edward Koenen.

Easter lilies were on the altar, before which Father McQuag performed the ceremony. The happy couple left on the evening train for a short honeymoon.

MISSION BAND ENTERTAINMENT

The Mission Band of Millet United Church, under the leadership of Mrs. Macdonald, held an open meeting in the church on Monday afternoon, to which all parents and others interested in the children's work were invited. A very interesting program was presented by members of the band as follows:

At the opening all stood with bowed heads and said:

"This is God's house and He is here today;

He hears us when we sing our songs
And also when we pray."

Recitation, Loree Rayfield; chorus, "Up from the grave He arose"; Bible reading, Matthew 28; recitation, Clara Kinchella; solo, "The baby Moses"; Margaret Barr; recitation, "Just Suppose," Thelma Anderson; "Just Suppose," John Goh; treasurer's report, Gordon Higginson; instrumental, "April Showers"; Irene Kent; recitation, "The Nurse"; Doris Wright; prayer song, Irma Olesen and Margaret Van Valkenburg; recitation, "The Nurse"; Doris Wright; prayer song, Irma Olesen and Margaret Van Valkenburg; recitation, Helen Davis; dialogue, "Life in Japan"; Ruth Rowley and Elsie Johnson; recitation, "What I believe"; Jackie Wright; address, Japan; Mrs. Mellett, Wetaskiwin; solo, Elsie Johnson; offering, taken by Allison Macdonald and Louis Anderson; roll call and presentation of cards by Mrs. Mellett.

The amounts realized were as follows: Children's thankoffering, $3.92; general collection, $2.85; donation from sale of curios, $145; total, $8.22.

Mrs. Mellett of Wetaskiwin was present with a collection of curios from Japan, hand painted pictures, school copy books, china, lacquers, dolls, dresses, and a sample of the gods worshipped in that land. She gave an interesting talk and explanations of the various articles, demonstrating the dresses by calling Irene Kent and decking her in Japanese costume, and showing how ceremonial bowing is performed. She then dressed Mrs. Alkena in the adult kimono and obi, or sash, showing how the latter is adjusted and looped at the back.

At the close Mrs. Mellett presented Japanese cards to the members of the band.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Mellett was moved by Gordon Higginson, seconded by Doris Wright, and heartily applauded by the assembly.

The leader, Mr. Macdonald, assisted by many willing workers, served delicious tea, coco, sandwiches and cake to the guests.

PRESERVATION TO REV. LANE

Rev. A. B. Lane of the Anglican church, in serving his connection with the Leduc appointment, held his farewell service in the Millet church on Easter Sunday to a full congregation.

At the close of the service, Churchwarden Parlee, on behalf of the congregation, presented Rev. A. B. and Mrs. Lane with a beautiful sterling silver cake plate.

Rev. Lane will be missed by the many who appreciated his deep interest in behalf of his people. He and his family leave very shortly to take up the work in Golden, B.C.

testimony, hoping to benefit every woman, as I did at the change of life. I was obliged to go to bed, had send to me. Now I am in perfect health."

—Mrs. Onesine Godin.

This stage of life takes heavy toll of women, as they are still strong and hardy and in a fine physical condition.

keeps the whole system toned up to withstand this trying experience. Made from the intensified juices of ripe, fresh fruit and health-building tonics. 25c
